

THE FRONTIER VINDICATOR

Always for EDUCATION

And the PUBLIC GOOD.

Summer 2013

FRONTIER CULTURE MUSEUM: Printed by the EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Looking for a change of pace and a fun team-building exercise for teacher in-service days? The Frontier Culture Museum can help. This summer we're introducing a new program for teachers and school staff that brings our interpreters to your school for in-service days. With their guidance teachers experience our programs the way students do. So if you want to see the staff at your school dancing to African drums or playing a fast and furious game of rounders, contact us to learn more.

This October 18th & 19th the Museum will hold our annual Ancestral Skills and Historic Trades Days. Flint-knapping and pottery-making demonstrations and an atlatl range are among the ancestral skills featured both days again this year at our American Indian exhibit. New this year are historic trades and domestic skills demonstrations at our other outdoor exhibits. One interesting addition is an iron bloomery at our Irish Forge, and another is timber framing at our German Farm. Mark your calendar and register your class as soon as you can for this unique field trip experience.

Although summer is almost here, it's not too early to schedule a fall field trip to the Frontier Culture Museum. Early registration insures you get a field trip on your preferred date at the time that is right for you. Call us at 540-332-7850 or visit our website at www.frontiermuseum.org to register for a field trip today.

The next newsletter will be sent in the fall.

ANDREW RICHARDSON