

THE FRONTIER VINDICATOR

Always for EDUCATION

And the PUBLIC GOOD.

Fall 2015

FRONTIER CULTURE MUSEUM of VIRGINIA: Printed by the EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Winter is fast approaching, so don't forget to sign your students up for our Winter Classroom Outreach Programs. These programs are available January through early March and can be presented in your classroom setting or as an assembly. All programs are available to all grade levels and include age appropriate activities and content.

The Frontier Culture Museum has a busy holiday season.

On December 5 we have two very exciting events. During the day from 1:00-4:00 PM we will once again be hosting our Winter Holiday Getting ready to go wassailing!

Workshop. Due to popular demand, we will now be holding two concurrent workshops, one for ages 5-8, and the other for ages 9-12. We have room for 30 participants in each. To register, or for more details, visit <http://www.frontiermuseum.org/2015/11/childrens-holiday-workshop-dec-5/>.

And later that night, from 6:00-8:00 PM, we will again have the "Evening of Holiday Traditions." Come by and see our exhibits adorned in traditional holiday decorations.

Tickets have just gone on sale for our 2015 Lantern Tours! As in past years, come and enjoy holiday vignettes on our English, Irish, and German farms before taking a horse-drawn wagon ride to see more performances on our 1820s and 1850s American farms. Music and refreshments will be available after the tour in our Dairy Barn Lecture Hall. Dates are December 18-23 and tour times start at 6:00 PM and continue every half hour ending at 8:00 PM. You'll want to reserve now before tickets sell out. Please use the following link to reserve online: <https://tickets.frontiermuseum.org/Info.aspx?EventID=9> or call the Museum at 540-332-7850.

The next newsletter will be sent in the Winter.
