And the PUBLIC GOOD.

Summer 2015

FRONTIER CULTURE MUSEUM of VIRGINIA: Printed by the EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

On Saturday, June 6, the Mt. Tabor Log Church was dedicated. It was moved from Round Hill, just outside New Hope in Augusta County, and previously served as the Mount Tabor United Methodist Church, a historically African American congregation.

The Frontier Culture Museum has been busy all summer long! We will have some new and exciting programs and events this year!

For the first time ever, the Museum is hosting an American Roots Music Series on Sunday evenings in August. The event celebrates the musical influences of bluegrass, Appalachian, and gospel music on Shenandoah Valley Frontier Culture. Tickets are still available for the August 30th concert. For more details, please visit the event webpage: <http://www.frontiermuseum.org/american-roots-music-series/>.

On September 19, the Museum is excited to bring back the Frontier Folkways Festival! This family-friendly event features interpretation of traditional daily activities from the past including crafts, trades, foodways, and entertainment at the Museum's Old World and American Exhibits. Tickets are $5 (Ages 6-12), $7 (13 and older), and free for those under 6. Purchase them in advance online to save more. Follow this link for more details: <https://tickets.frontiermuseum.org/Info.aspx?EventID=9>.

Once again this summer, the extra produce from the exhibits' gardens will be available for purchase on select days at the Welcome Center. Come on by to try some true heirloom fruits and vegetables.

We had another great Spring Homeschool Day but don't forget about our Fall Homeschool Day on Friday, October 2. And like in years past, we will also be hosting the Colonial Artisans at the Museum this day. Advance registration will end on September 30 so buy your tickets in advance! Here's the link: <https://tickets.frontiermuseum.org/Info.aspx?EventID=9>

Remember, if you're planning on bringing your students on a field trip to the Museum this fall, contact us early to get your preferred date, time, and program.

The next newsletter will be sent in the Fall.
